NEWS RELEASE

Mumbai, 27th August 2026

Dear Valued Customer,

Further to our communication dated 18th August 2026, the availability of Acetic Acid and other imported raw materials has deteriorated due to a series of typhoons since July, including Typhoon Bavi and Typhoon White Dolphin. In addition, upcoming typhoons Narra, Saudel and Gaenari are expected to further disrupt port operations, shipping movements and vessel availability across Chinese ports.

Consequently, imported vessel arrivals are being delayed by approximately 15–20 days, resulting in frequent stockouts of Acetic Acid and other critical raw materials. This is compelling us to undertake forced shutdowns and production cuts, thereby constraining the availability of our finished products.

Under these circumstances, we continue to remain under Force Majeure until the supply chain for Acetic Acid and other critical raw materials stabilizes. The situation is expected to persist through September 2026, and finished products will therefore be supplied on an allocation basis.

We strongly advise you to plan your procurement requirements well in advance and coordinate closely with our Sales team to secure allocations.

We sincerely appreciate your understanding, cooperation and continued support during this challenging period.
